TREE POETRY COMPETITION 2011

YEAR 6 CATEGORY WINNER
& 1st PRIZE OVERALL WINNER

WHAT DO LEAVES DO?

They twist and turn in the wind's whispers,
They glitter in the sun like embroidered jewels.
They move like dancing couples,
And scatter along the floor like millions of centipedes.
They're as light as a feather,
And fall from the trees as if they've fallen from heaven.
